

Hey there!

I'm Chris Wildeman.

I'm an artist with a production background, trying to move up in the world in the most creative way possible while simultaneously spreading the gospel of design. I enjoy the following things: Gettin' creative! Screen printing in my basement! Intersectional feminism! Vonnegut! Horror movies! Coffee! Macho Man impressions! Exclamation points! Hockey!

Professional Experience

2019 - PRESENT

DTG PRODUCTION MANAGER

Printfly Corp. | Philadelphia, PA

Currently optimizing the DTG Production Department with an awesome team to boost output and improve overall print quality.

2018 - 2019

APPLICATIONS & SHOWROOM SPECIALIST

KORNIT DIGITAL NORTH AMERICA | Englewood, NJ

Opened and set up a state-of-the-art demo facility in Kornit's new North American HQ. Optimized systems to provide highest-quality prints and operated the facility with a lofty standard of excellence. Utilized my experience in apparel design, print, and production methods for presales samples and product demos. With practical knowledge of color models, applications, and production methods, I was able to educate prospective customers and help them along their journey to DTG. Contributed to alpha and in-house beta testing on new products to ensure optimal integration with the Kornit ecosystem.

2017 - 2018

FIELD SERVICE ENGINEER
